

Regena Kirk graduated from Edinboro University in 2007 with a BA in Music Education. She has experience teaching public school for three years and individual lessons for 14 years. She continued expanding her music career with Suzuki Piano training, and REMO Drum Facilitation Training. She enjoys collaborating with all ages in churches, camps, schools, recitals, universities, and various ensembles. Some special performances include All-Shore Accompanist in VA, District Choir Accompanist in VA and PA, and Erie Philharmonic “Messiah”.

In addition to working for LCA, Regena also directs the Preschool at First Alliance Church, accompanies PennWest University Choir, Plays for First United Presbyterian Church in Edinboro, and teaches Individual Piano Lessons.

“Throughout the years, I have enjoyed the unique ways of learning and growing with my students, and witnessing their creative ways to find their own musical journey. I often tell my Piano Students, ‘One day, you won’t need me anymore’. This statement truly comes from the heart. I will give them all the tools I have learned and even more encouragement. My purpose is fulfilled when a student lights up from feeling the music or understanding a new music concept. This Little Light of Mine... I’m Gonna Let It Shine!”
